Hotel Re! – Housekeeping Bed Making Competition 2012

2 August 2012 – Ever wonder how hotel beds are always made to look super comfortable, the plush duvets and soft pillows, almost like you're hitting cloud nine. It is no wonder that a dream vacation is made in part by those smooth sheets on the tightly made hotel bed. In Hotel Re!, we put guests' basic good night's rest as our utmost priority, that is why we are constantly training our housekeeping professionals to perfect the skill of bed making.

The Competition

Hotel Re!, together with many major players in the hospitality industry, has taken part in the second Housekeeping Bed Making Competition earlier this month!

The Housekeeping Bed-Making Competition is the brainchild of the Employment and Employability Institute (e2i), the Institute of Technical Education (ITE) and the Association of Singapore Housekeepers. This year, there are two categories to the competition, namely the closed category for housekeepers who are Singaporean / Permanent Residents, 40 years old and above, and the open category for all housekeepers.

Competition was stiff with 24 contestants in the close category and 86 contestants in the open category, from various hotels such as Marina Mandarin Hotel, Fullerton hotel, Grand Hyatt Singapore etc.

Our Dedication

We are pleased to inform that Ms Jennifer, our Senior Housekeeping Supervisor, came in top 6 in the close category and Mr Chang Bin, our Room Attendant, came in as the 2nd runner up in the open category.

Move with the Groove

Congratulations to our Housekeeping warriors for their great performance on the Housekeeping Bed Making Competition 2012. We're constantly looking to do great as we do well, for all our loyal friends out here. Here's to clean, neat and comfortable beds that Hotel Re! will hold as a top priority!
